

Ring Sling Instructions

Ringsling instructions for safe carrying practices. If you need help finding a babywearing educator or local babywearing chapter, Alight Handwovens would be happy to help!

Only use this carrier with children weighing between 8 pounds and 35 pounds.

Before putting on the ringsling, thread the end of the carrier through the rings for a secure hold. First through both rings, then back through just one ring. Check there is no slipping when pulled taut.

Put the empty ringsling on so the rings sit almost up on the shoulder and the other side is under the opposite arm and pull the excess tail threaded through the rings tighter so there is only a little space in the sling

Always holding your baby securely, place the baby on your shoulder as if you were burping them and gently get their legs into and down through the bottom of the pocket you have made on your chest with the sling—paying careful attention the baby is chest to chest with you and the legs are in an M position mimicking a seat. Slowly and gently settle them into the carrier making a knee to knee seat with the fabric pulling up between baby and you a bit if needed while always holding onto them securely.

Make sure there is a nice seat for the baby to sit on before tightening

While holding the baby securely with one arm, tighten the sling tail on the ring side strand by strand making sure there is no slack and the carrier is securely around you and the baby and the seat is in tact.

Always check the baby's head and body position and breathing during wearing and follow all the instructional literature and be aware of the correct and incorrect positions. Happy Wearing!
